

CHARLESTOWN WORKSHOPS

Scotland's specialist training centre for

BUILDING CONSERVATION
TRADITIONAL BUILDING SKILLS
ECOLOGICAL BUILDING

SCOTTISH LIME CENTRE

Come to our open day!
on Saturday 7 June 2003 from 10.30am to 4pm

Charlestown Workshops is the training centre of the Scottish Lime Centre Trust, a building conservation charity which specialises in providing high quality practical training in traditional building technology for building professionals, contractors and homeowners.

The use of appropriate traditional materials and techniques is important if repairs to historic or traditional buildings are to be effective and we have a particular expertise in 'lime and stone' - the essential materials of much of our built heritage. If you are interested in old buildings come and see what we are all about and meet our traditional building experts.

Plaster casting and quizzes for the kids

Visitor exhibition and heritage walks

Environment
conscious paints
and finishes for your healthy
home

Watch the magic
of quicklime
being slaked

Make beautiful
earth pigmented
lime washes

Try your hand at pointing a rubble wall
in lime mortar, the traditional way ...

Charlestown Workshops are located in the beautiful historic village of Charlestown, approximately 3 miles south west of Dunfermline (off the A985) next to the village of Limekilns. Buses to Charlestown run hourly from Dunfermline Bus Station on Saturdays.

Scottish Lime Centre Trust The Schoolhouse Rocks Road Charlestown Fife KY11 3EN
T 01383 872722 F 01383 872744 E info@scotlime.org www.scotlime.org
Registered in Scotland no SC151481 A charitable company by guarantee Charity no SC022692