CREDITS FOR ATTENDANCE CEU - 14 Hours

* * * Includes 3 hours of ETHICS * * *

Friday, March 6th - 6 hours (Includes 1 hour ETHICS) Friday Evening - ETHICS - 2 hours Saturday, March 7th - 6 hours

- 1. National Board of Certified Counselors (NBCC)
- 2. Idaho Society for Clinical Social Workers (ISCSW) LSW, LMSW and LCSW levels
- 3. Boise City Child Care licensing hours

Certificates of Attendance available to all attendees.

GRADUATE CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT

Northwest Nazarene University

(Must attend both day programs and evening program) Instructor of Record - Dick Craig, Ed.D., LCPC

1 Credit. $65.00 Registration for credit on-site only. For more information call 344-7194.

HOTEL REGISTRATION INFORMATION

DoubleTree Hotel - Riverside

2900 Chinden Boulevard Boise, Idaho 83714

Special Conference Rates:

Single or Double Occupancy $89.00

RESERVATIONS:

(208) 343-1871 or (800) 222-8733

Room Guaranteed if Reserved by 2-13-2009 INDICATE YOU ARE AN ISIP PARTICIPANT!

Maybell, Ph.D.

hours 3 I L L Includes

Conferences? ISIP

attends

Social Workers

Child Care Providers

Psychologists

Idaho Society of Individual Psychology

Seeing the Same Jhing Differently: Changing Client Perceptions of Jheir History

James R. Bitter, Ed.D.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE March 6 & 7, 2009

DoubleTree Hotel - Riverside 2900 Chinden Blvd., Boise, Idaho (208) 343-1871

ISIP Registration

Sign up for:	Regular		i iime udent
☐ Both Days*	$ 180		85
☐ Friday only*	$ 140	$	60
☐ Saturday only*	$ 125	$	55
☐ Friday Evening	$ 35*	$	35*
*Friday evening included w	vith Registra	ation	1.
20% DISCOUNT offered for 3 from the same agency for Re	gular regist	ratio	ns.
Discount not available for Or Conference Registration include Continental Breakfast both day
Student's Professor's Signature
☐ Friday Evening progra (No Discounts)	m only	$	35
☐ VEGETARIAN Lunch -	- Friday
CONFERENCE REGISTRATION	$ _
Late Charge after 2/13/2009 ($2	.5) $ _
CONFERENCE TOTAL	$ _
NASAP Associate Member (optio (North American Society of Adlerian Psych	nal) $25 _{ology)} $
TOTAL ENCLOSED	$ _
Please Prin	t
Name
Address
City S	ST Zip
Day Phone
Evening Phone
Email
Profession
Institution

Make checks payable to ISIP and mail along with this registration information to ISIP, P.O. Box 284, Boise, ID 83701 or to Register Online, go to www.adleridaho.com Discount not available for Online registrations.

Cancellation Fee of $25 will be retained after February 24. NO REFUNDS after February 28.

Phone (208) 344-7194 • tommyttom@cableone.net

Seeing the Same Thing Differently: Changing Client Perceptions of Their History

10:00 a.m. Demonstration of lifestyle assessment Goal: A demonstration of Adlerian lifestyle assessment and how to use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person wants to do with her or his life. 12:00 noon LUNCH Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL		•
8:30 a.m. Adlerian lifestyle as the story of one's life until now Goal: Participants will learn the basic process for developing a lifestyle narrative. The lifestyle narrative will be used as a starting point for considering the flow of an individual's life story and for examining options about how that story might develop further. Participants will consider ways to transform lifestyle information into a working narrative. 10:10 a.m. Demonstration of lifestyle assessment Goal: A demonstration of Adlerian lifestyle assessment and how to use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person wants to do with her or his life. 12:00 noon LUNCH Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. Goal: A demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. BREAK 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL		FRIDAY, MARCH 6th
Goal: Participants will learn the basic process for developing a lifestyle narrative. The lifestyle narrative will be used as a starting point for considering the flow of an individual's life story and for examining options about how that story might develop further. Participants will consider ways to transform lifestyle information into a working narrative. 10:00 a.m. BREAK 10:15 a.m. Demonstration of lifestyle assessment and how to use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person wants to do with her or his life. 12:00 noon LUNCH 1:00 p.m. Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	7:30 a.m.	Registration
10:15 a.m. Demonstration of lifestyle assessment Goal: A demonstration of Adlerian lifestyle assessment and how to use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person wants to do with her or his life. 12:00 noon LUNCH Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. Goal: A demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. BREAK 3:30 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	8:30 a.m.	Goal: Participants will learn the basic process for developing a lifestyle narrative. The lifestyle narrative will be used as a starting point for considering the flow of an individual's life story and for examining options about how that story might develop further. Participants will consider ways to transform lifestyle information into
Goal: A demonstration of Adlerian lifestyle assessment and how to use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person wants to do with her or his life. 12:00 noon Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic transformation. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	10:00 a.m.	BREAK use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person wants to do with her or his life. 12:00 noon LUNCH 1:00 p.m. Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	10:15 a.m.	Demonstration of lifestyle assessment
1:00 p.m. Re-considering holism: How body, mind, spirit, and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic transformation. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK BREAK Si30 p.m. DISMISSAL		use lifestyle data to develop a coherent personal storyline. Participants will also examine the "arrows" within an individual's life story that point to further development and to the experience of the "next," that is the experience of real choice about what a person and emotions function together Goal: To lay a foundation for considering the interplay of body experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic transformation. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections Goal: A demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. BREAK James Bitter, Ed. D. DISMISSAL	12:00 noon	LUNCH experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an example of holistic transformation. 2:00 p.m. Demonstration of holistic interventions focusing on early recollections Goal: A demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	1:00 p.m.
focusing on early recollections Goal: A demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. Ethics James Bitter, Ed. D. 4:30 p.m. DISMISSAL		experience, cognitions, values and emotions in counseling and therapy; to consider the experience of personal "history" in the enactment of present living. Participants will consider the clues that emotional reactivity provides for transforming one's perceptions of personal history and will also look at the experience of trauma as an
Goal: A demonstration of processes for connecting body, mind, spirit and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. Ethics James Bitter, Ed. D. 4:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	2:00 p.m.
and emotion through the use of early recollections. Participants will see a demonstration of working with emotional reactivity and trauma from a holistic perspective. Participants will be able to identify specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their perceptions of history. 3:15 p.m. BREAK 3:30 p.m. Ethics James Bitter, Ed. D. 4:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	·	ů ,
3:30 p.m. Ethics James Bitter, Ed. D. 4:30 p.m. DISMISSAL		specific methods of inquiry that will help individuals reconstruct their
James Bitter, Ed. D. 4:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	3:15 p.m.	BREAK
4:30 p.m. DISMISSAL	3:30 p.m.	Ethics
		James Bitter, Ed. D.
EDIDAY MADOU OU	4:30 p.m.	DISMISSAL
		EDIDAY MADCH 6th

FRIDAY, MARCH 6th
7-9 p.m. 2 Hours	Ethics in Practice Barry Watts, Ph.D., Presenter

James Robert Bitter, Ed.D., NCC, MFC is professor of Counseling in the Department of Human Development and Learning at East Tennessee State University in Johnson City. He is a nationally certified counselor and family therapist and a former officer of the North American Society of Adlerian Psychology (NASAP). He is also a former editor of the Journal of Individual Psychology and is currently a Diplomate in Adlerian Psychology. He is on the editorial board of The Family Journal and has served in the past in a similar role on the Journal of Counseling and Development. He received his doctorate in 1975 from Idaho State University in Pocatello, Idaho.

Jim received awards for Outstanding Teaching in the College of Human Development and Community Service at California State University at Fullerton, and for Outstanding Scholarship in the Clemmer College of Education at East Tennessee State University. He has taught in graduate Counseling programs at

	SATURDAY, MARCH 7th
7:30 a.m.	Registration
8:30 a.m.	From lifestyle to narrative practice Goal: To introduce methods of narrative practice into Adlerian counseling and therapy. Participants will learn how to move clients from "thin" descriptions to "thick" ones, how to identify the effects of problems on individuals and systems, how to externalize problems, and how to use unique or preferred outcomes to develop a preferred life story.
10:00 a.m.	BREAK
10:15 a.m.	Counseling Demonstration Goal: Participants will examine the process of therapeutic story development from problem identification through externalization and re-authoring.
12:00 noon	LUNCH
1:30 p.m.	Self-narratives and narratives of professional practice
	Goal: Participants will be invited into an experiential process that involves interviewing each other about the interplay between their personal and professional lives.
3:00 p.m.	involves interviewing each other about the interplay between their
3:00 p.m. 3:15 p.m.	involves interviewing each other about the interplay between their personal and professional lives.

Intermountain Hospital provides NBCC credit.

three universities, and he has authored or co-authored three books, twentyfive chapters, and more than fifty articles.

Together with Oscar Christensen, Bill Nicoll, and Clair Hawes, Jim is a cofounder and core faculty member of the Adlerian Training Institute (ATI) in Port St. Lucie, Florida. He has contributed to the development of Adlerian Brief Therapy with individuals and families. He is the featured expert for Adlerian Family Therapy in the Allyn and Bacon (1998) series Family Therapy with the Experts. He has offered workshops in Canada, England, Greece, Ireland, Korea, New Zealand, Peru, and Slovakia as well as throughout the United States.

Jim studied and worked for ten years with one of family therapy's pioneers, Virginia Satir. He was a trainer in her Process Communities for three of those years, and he is a past President of her training Network called AVANTA. Jim also studied with the master Gestalt therapists Erv and Miriam Polster. In the fall of 2007, Jim was in Australia studying narrative therapy with the late Michael White, who died in March 2008 at the age of 59. This workshop is an Adlerian integration of experiential, systemic, Gestalt, and narrative approaches to therapy.

Barry Watts, Ph.D. is a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor who has served in a variety of clinical and administrative positions over the past 37 years. He is a former member of the Counselor Licensing Board and has been a part-time Counselor Educator for more than 25 years. He remains active in his profession and enjoys sharing some of the lessons he's learned with his colleagues in the mental health professions.