

Allied Health Education & Career Pathways

Career Pathways Coordinator – Program Development Position Announcement

The Allied Health Education & Career Pathways Area at UW Health is seeking applicants for the Career Pathways Coordinator – Program Development position. The Career Pathways Coordinator – Program Development is responsible for creating and sustaining relationships and educational programming that aid in growing and diversifying UW Health’s emerging and future workforce. Please help us share this opportunity to interested clinical healthcare or medical science professionals to join our team!

We are seeking specific candidates that:

- Have a background and at least 3 years of experience in clinical health care careers or medical science.
- Are highly flexible, can work independently and able to transform ideas into action
- Are able to develop, design, implement and evaluate educational programs and curriculum.
- Have experience in leading and developing teams.

For the full position description, qualifications and to apply:

https://uwhealth.taleo.net/careersection/uwh_cs_external/jobdetail.ft!?job=17002103

